- Where applicable, information regarding your criminal record, in criminal records checks and credit history and any other data revealed during background screenings.

- Your nationality and immigration status and information from related documents, such as your passport or other identification and immigration information.¹
- A copy of your driving licence (If relevant to the position you are applying for).

Why we collect the information and how we use it?

We will typically collect and use this information for the following purposes:

	Fulfilling contracts We need to process your personal information to decide whether to enter into a contract of employment with you
Assess your skills, qualifications, and suitability for the position. To take steps to enter into a contract with you.
	Our legal duty This basis is appropriate when we are processing personal data to comply with EU or Irish Law
For compliance with a legal obligation (e.g., our obligation to check that you are eligible to work in the Republic of Ireland); Keep records related to our hiring processes.
	Legitimate interests A legitimate interest is when we have a business or commercial reason to use your information. But even then, it must not unfairly go against what is right and best for you. If we rely on our legitimate interest, we will tell you what that is.
Assess your skills, qualifications, and suitability for the position.	Our legitimate interest: It is in the legitimate interests of the credit union to recruit individuals to roles and functions for its benefit.
Communicate with you about the recruitment process.	Our legitimate interest: To ensure we keep you updated on the process, we will contact you via your preferred method of communication, to ensure that correct instructions were given or taken due to the nature of our business and to resolve any disputes quickly and accurately.
Keep records related to our hiring processes.	Our legitimate interest: To keep records related to the hiring process in case you wish to exercise any rights relating to the data and quickly and accurately resolve any disputes. If we wish to retain your personal data on file, on the basis that a further opportunity may arise in future and we may wish to consider you for that, we will write to you separately, seeking your consent to retain your personal data for a fixed period on that basis.

Having received your CV and cover letter, we will then process that information to decide whether you meet the necessary requirements to be shortlisted for the role. If we decide to call you for an interview, we will use the information you provide to us at the interview to decide whether to offer you the position. If we decide to offer you the position, we will then take up references before confirming your appointment.

In general, access to your personal data will be restricted to minimise the number of people in the credit union who need it to evaluate your application for employment, provide functions supporting our recruiting and selection team e.g., external interviewers, or to whom we are compelled to provide it by applicable law.

We seek to ensure that our information collection and processing is always proportionate. We will notify you of any changes to information we collect or to the purposes for which we collect and process it.

If you fail to provide personal information

If you fail to provide information when requested, which is necessary for us to consider your application (such as evidence of qualifications or work history), we will not be able to process your application successfully. For example, if we require a credit check or references for the role and you fail to provide us with relevant details, we will not be able to take your application any further.

How we use special category data

We will use your special category data in the following ways:

- We will use information about your nationality or citizenship to establish if we require a work permit for you to be eligible to work for us.
- Data about your health or disability where it is relevant to your ability or availability to work or to ensure workplace accommodation. We only collect health information should you decide to voluntarily disclose this information.

Information about criminal convictions

We are required by the Central Bank of Ireland to carry out criminal record checks for those carrying out certain functions.

We are required to carry out criminal records check in order to satisfy ourselves that there is nothing in your criminal convictions history which makes you unsuitable for the role(s).

Where we do process criminal data, we will ensure that appropriate additional safeguards as required by the Data Protection Act 2018 are in place.

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

How secure is my information with third-party service providers?

We may also need to share some of the above categories of personal data with other parties, such as HR consultants, the Irish League of Credit Unions (ILCU)², insurers and professional advisers.

All our third-party service providers are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal data in line with our policies. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes unless they are deemed to be data controllers in their own right³. We only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions. Usually, information will be anonymised, but this may not always be possible.

The recipient of the information will also be bound by confidentiality obligations. We may also be required to share some personal data with our regulators, the Central Bank of Ireland as required to comply with the law.

3. Sources of Personal Data

We collect personal data about candidates from the following sources:

- Data which you (the candidate) submit in resumes/CVs, letters, or other written material;

4. Retention of Data

We will retain your personal data for a period of 18 months after we have communicated to you our decision about whether to appoint you to the position. We retain your personal data for that period so that we can show, in the event of a legal claim, that we have not discriminated against candidates on prohibited grounds and that we have conducted the recruitment exercise in a fair and transparent way.

Once the retention period has expired, the respective data will be permanently deleted. If you require further information, please contact us.

If your application is successful, we will keep only the recruitment information that is necessary in relation to your employment.

If we wish to retain your personal data on file, on the basis that a further opportunity may arise in future and we may wish to consider you for that, we will write to you separately, seeking your consent to retain your personal data for a fixed period on that basis.

² The ILCU (a trade and representative body for credit unions in Ireland and Northern Ireland) provides professional and business support services such as HR to affiliated credit unions. We may disclose information in your application to authorised officers or employees of the ILCU for the purpose of the ILCU providing services to us

³ As a data controller, the organisations will be required to have provided you with a separate privacy notice setting out what it does with its data.

Note that this privacy notice relates only to how we process data relating to member accounts.
